SUBJECT: She bet $12.5 million on what?

Greetings [FIRSTNAME],

It's Faith at [COMPANYNAME], and I couldn't believe my eyes when I read about this one ...

It happened over 2,000 years ago at a banquet with Egypt's royal biggies. At the head table sat their queen ... the matchless Cleopatra.

But she had a problem. She was stone-cold bored of the small talk swirling around. So the elegant Queen decided to have a little fun with her guests ...

She pushed back her chair and stood up, watching them. The room quieted in expectation.

Smiling mysteriously, she announced, "I'll bet I can eat a meal worth $12.5 million in one sitting."

"Sure!" they laughed in disbelief. "You're on!" they roared, positive they'd win the bet.

But the last Pharaoh of Ancient Egypt was ready.

She sat back down. Calmly took out a pouch of gleaming pearls worth $12.5 million. Dropped them one-by-one into a crystal goblet. Filled it with vinegar.

Then, with a smile on her lips and chin resting on palms, Cleopatra watched as the pearls dissolved in the vinegar.

When the last one had turned to liquid, the Queen of Egypt picked up her goblet, saluted her gasping guests ...

And drank the golden liquid down to the last 12.5 ... million ... dollar ... drop!

Cleopatra knew about the many uses of vinegar, including its ability to dissolve her pearls. And she's not the only one.

Women through the ages have also relied on those powers to help their families stay healthy and strong.

Why not put the awesome benefits of vinegar to work for you, too?
